

11 new forest guards pass basic training

May 1, 2024, 04.25 AM IST

Shillong: The 28th convocation ceremony of Meghalaya Forest Training School (MFTS) was held on Tuesday at Williamnagar in East Garo Hills with 11 trainees passing out as full-fledged guards. The newly recruited guards were felicitated for completing their basic training course.

Principal chief conservator of forest H C Chaudhary lauded the forest personnel for their hard work and dedication, adding that the training will go a long way in enabling them to play their roles and carry out responsibilities with greater efficacy.

“The forest department is one of the few govt departments which has been assigned developmental and regulatory functions,” he said.

“Officials in the forest and environment department need to be equipped with necessary skills to perform multiple responsibilities in an effective and efficient manner,” he stressed.

We also published the following articles recently

'Climate issues demand new training module for foresters' President Droupadi Murmu urges IFS probationers to revise curriculum for climate emergency, citing Supreme Court judgments on forest protection. Emphasizes importance of conservation of indigenous knowledge from tribal societies for an ecologically sustainable path.109581236

Clarify if prior nod was needed to cut trees for Wanowrie eco-tourism park: NGT to forest department NGT bench directs PCCF to clarify tree felling permissions for Wanowrie eco-park. TOI report triggers show-cause to absent Pune collector. Affidavit required within two weeks. Gliricidia tree issue raised for forest park development.109581309

For 7 & 13 Voters, Poll Officials Brave Hills & Forests In Melghat Teams from Achalpur town's Fatima Convent school started early to reach Melghat hills polling stations, ensuring no delays despite facing land acquisition resistance, mobile tower restrictions, and relying on runners for data transmission.109576468